

20,000,000 shipments, and growing...

That's how many orders have been dispatched with Zenstores by ecommerce retailers in the UK. An impressive number, sure, but hard to put in to perspective...

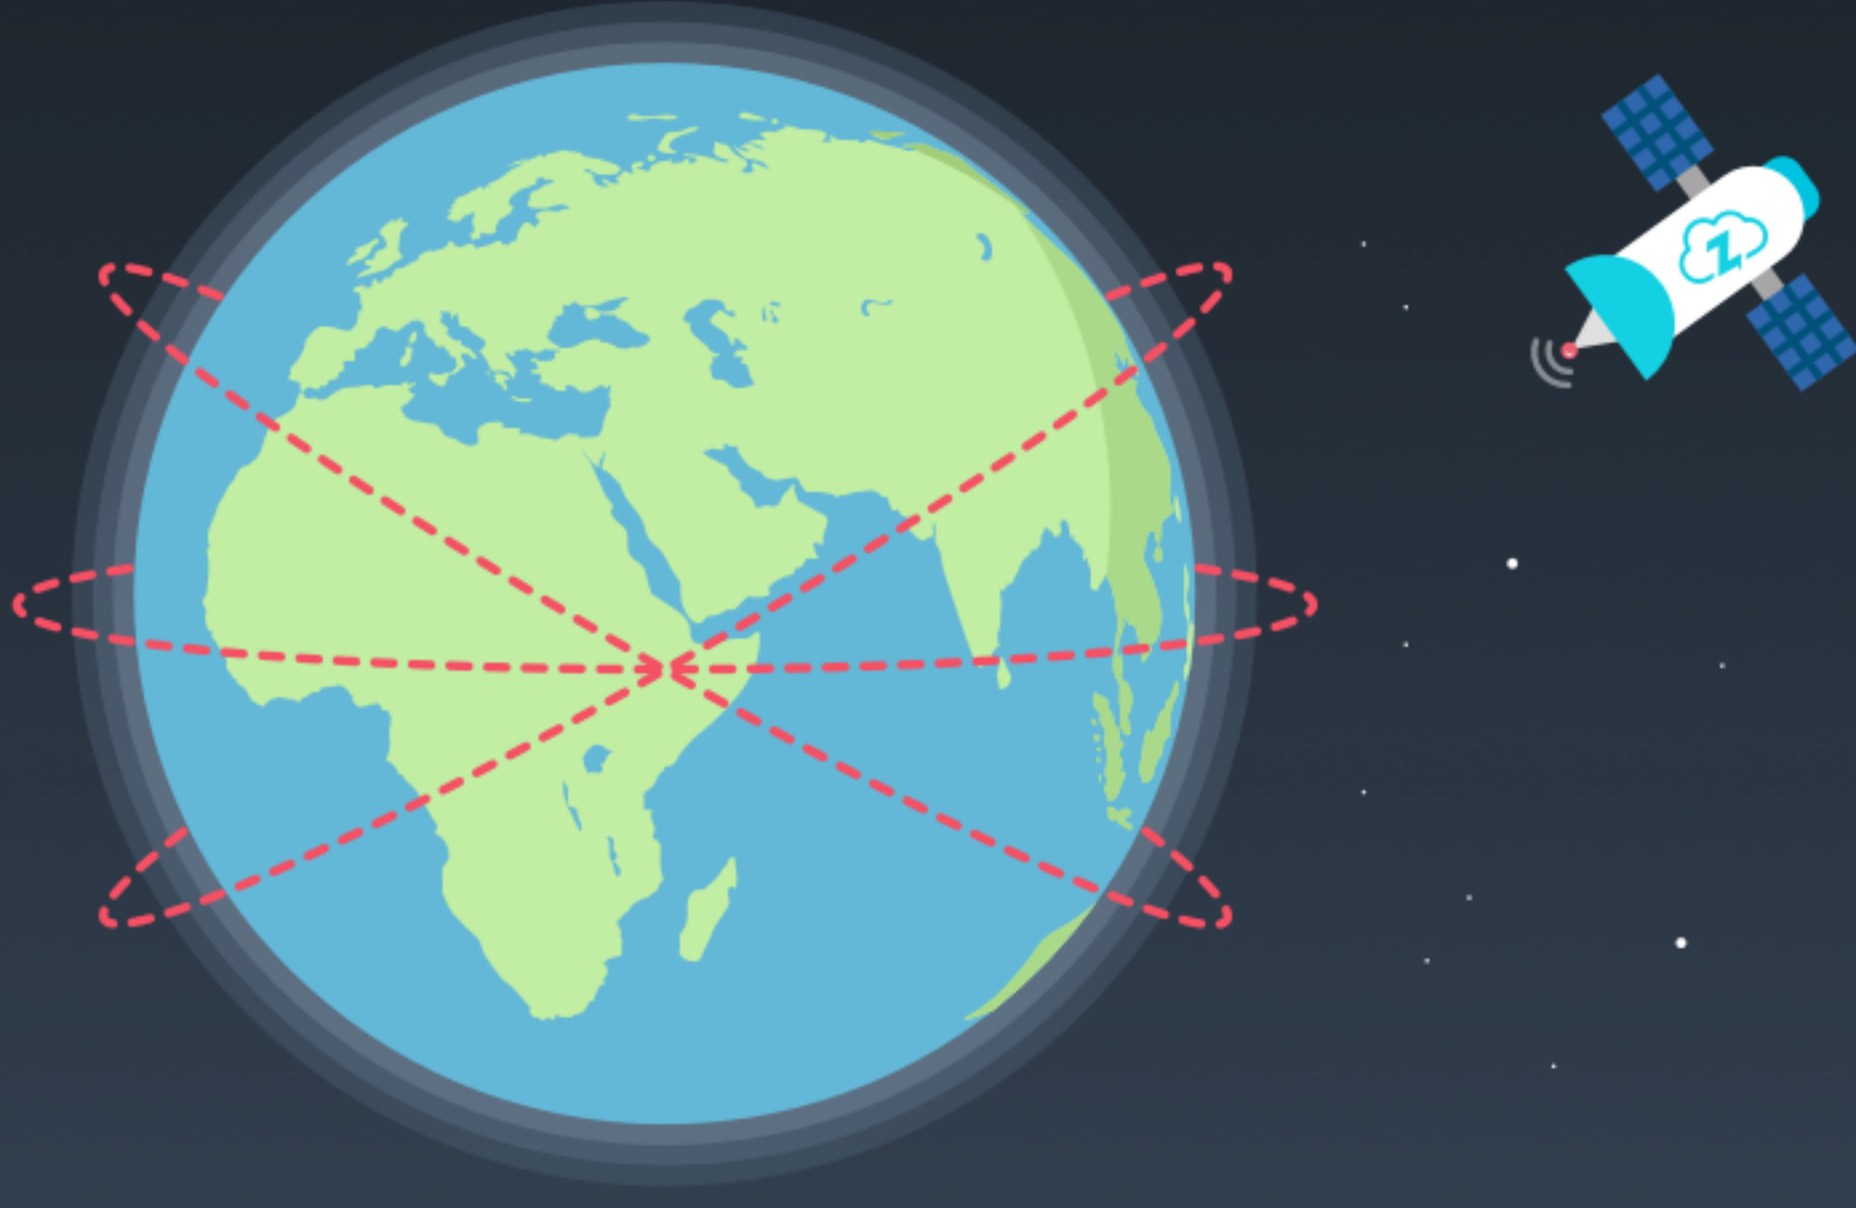

If all of those parcels were stacked up they would reach a height...

46 times taller than Olympus Mons on Mars, the tallest mountain in our solar system.

Pretty far out!

Let's bring things back to Earth...

Combined, those 20 million parcels have travelled over...

1 Billion Miles,

equal to going around the world 40,000 times.

That's the equivalent of delivering more than 2 parcels

to every person in New York City

Combined, these parcels weigh more than 5,000 tonnes

— roughly the same weight as 25 blue whales.

By using Zenstores to power their shipping, the retailers behind these parcels have saved a combined total of 44 years

— reclaiming valuable time so they can get back to doing what they do best.
